

Cultivate your knowledge of the floriculture industry

ERS's Floriculture and Environmental Horticulture Outlook is back—this time as a free, on-line newsletter

Last published in 1999, the outlook report is a key component of ERS's new program on floriculture and environmental horticulture, offering:

- timely analysis and forecasts in an electronic outlook newsletter (late summer)
- supplemental electronic newsletter articles as key issues arise
- yearbook (May)—print and electronic versions
- additional data and analysis on floriculture and environmental horticulture—watch for it on the ERS website at: www.ers.usda.gov
